harvest 1974

Autumn leaves drift with a sigh of regret That our years are passing so quickly away.
Yet new hope is born with each golden moment
That rises from the mists of our yesterday.

Cheshire High

IN APPRECIATION

MR. HOWARD ANDREWS

Four years ago, a man stood in front of our class and told us he was our advisor. At the time we didn't realize just how lucky we were.

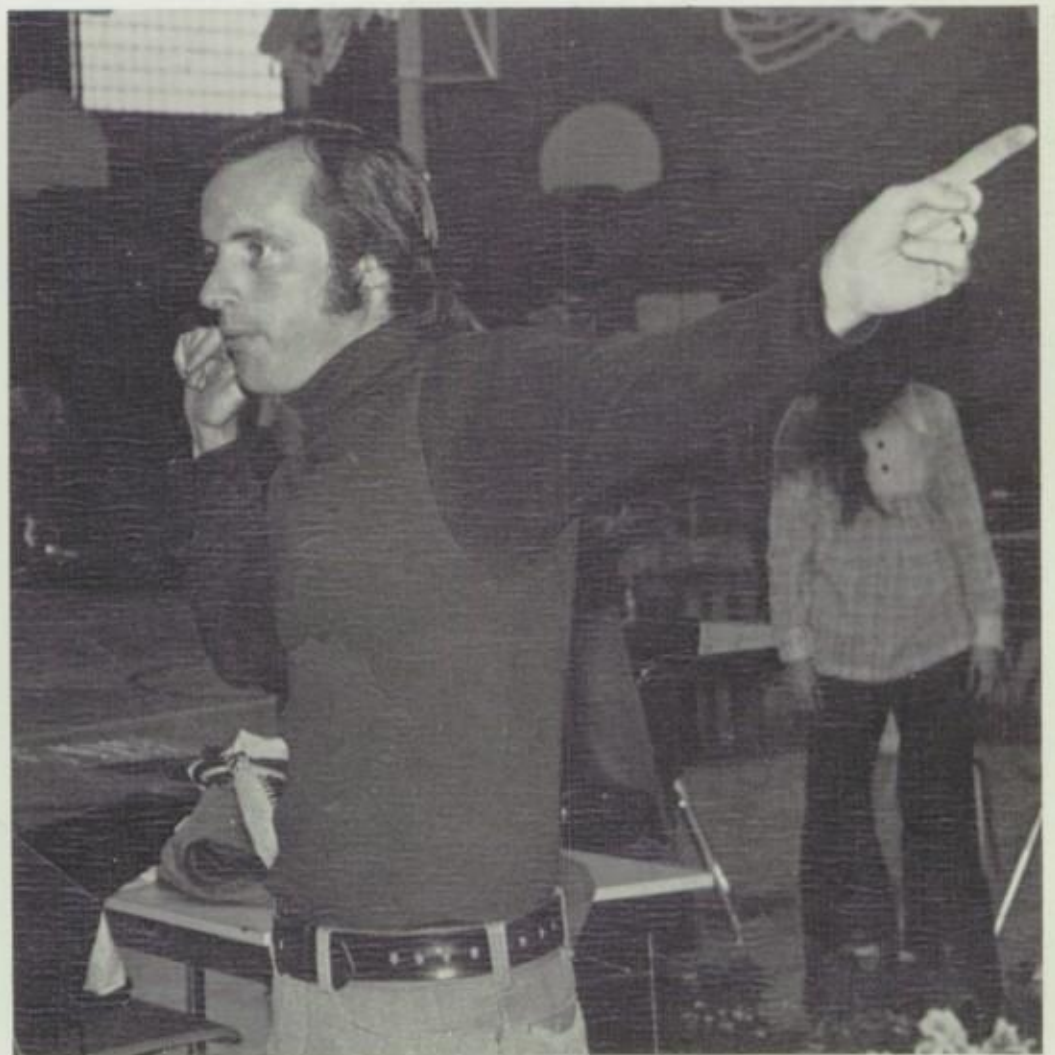

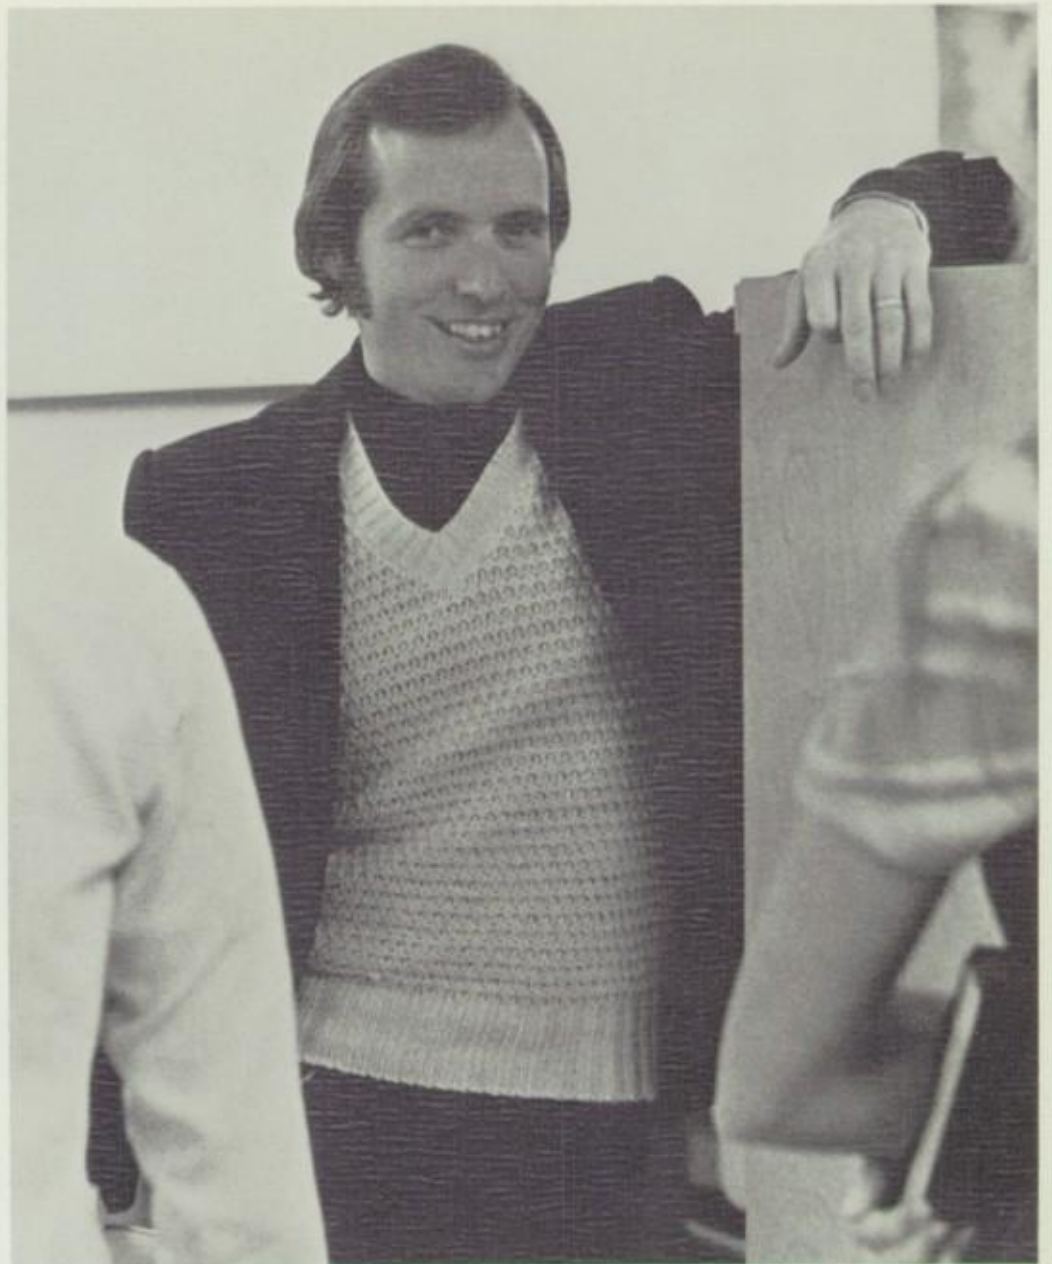

During the years he showed us what it meant to be a united and great class. He did everything for us — from planning our activities — to chaperoning our dances and proms — to even climbing a tree to hoist Ramone.

But most of all he was an advisor who had the time for each and everyone of us — and we thank him very much.

Therefore, we the class of nineteen hundred and seventy-four dedicate our "Harvest" to the man who was dedicated to our class — Mr. Howard Andrews.

THANK YOU

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

In these grey, somber times of ours, it is easy to drift into a preoccupation with the personal inconveniences that afflict our lives. Events on all sides seem to close in on us: inflation, recession, the energy crisis. And, if we are not strong, despair and pessimism can become our dominating mood. It is indeed hard to be optimistic and also accept the reality of life around us. But let us rather look to the totality of our experience. We are coming to the 200th anniversary of our country. Were not the forces at work in 1776 overpowering and pessimistic? Did they not have doubts that the spirit of liberty would succeed? And what of the brink of disaster we came to during the Civil War: a country torn, draft riots, inflation. Could not the young of 1873 have turned inward, despaired of a better life and given up the philosophy of democracy? the tools of surmounting their problems seemed, as today, nowhere at hand. And yet we rose from a posture of cynicism and gloom by ingenuity, hope, and faith in the process. Man can, with determination, strength, and faith, overcome overpowering circumstances and events. As a people we have turned defeat and trial into growth and might. The liberty won in 1783 was of substance because of the struggle to attain it. The democracy of the 20th century has been stronger and more resilient because of the impact of the Civil War.

But the proposition of today that haunts us remains: can we, fast running out of simple answers and faced with a population impact far beyond our assessments, steel ourselves to meeting the challenge? I propose it is not a question of can but a question of how. And my brief goodbye to the Class of 1974 is best stated by Arthur Hugh Clough:

"For while the tired waves, vainly breaking Seem here no painful inch to gain
Far back through creeks and inlets making,
Comes silent flooding in the main.

And not by eastern windows only,
When daylight comes, comes in the light
In front the sun climbs slowly, how slowly
But westward look, the land is bright."

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Reflecting on the past four years I see evidence of our maturing as individuals and devoting our efforts to the success we have experienced as a class.

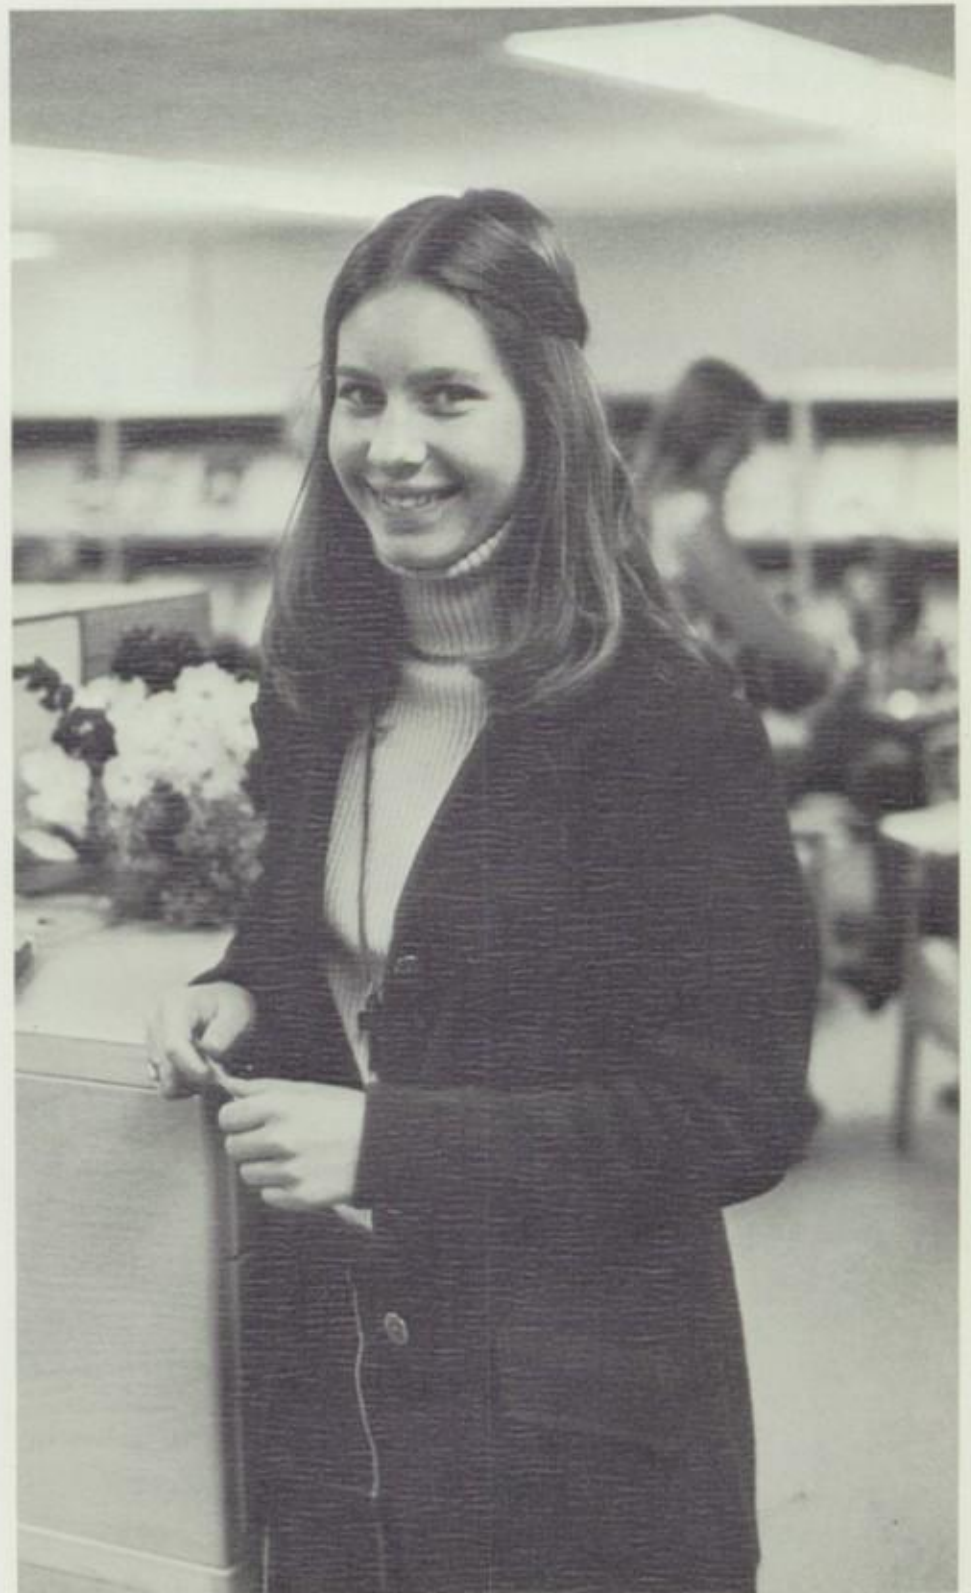

We have learned that only with group participation can a major goal be accomplished. Through this participation at C. H. S. we have been given the opportunity to develop our own unique personalities.

As your senior class president I've tried to continue the tradition of our excellent past class leaders.

As a rampant Irishman I'd like to leave you with this Irish blessing:

"May the roads rise
up to meet you,
May the wind be always
at your back,
May the sun shine warm
upon your face,
And may God hold you in the hollow of his hand."

"No man is an island, entire of itself; every man is a piece of the continent, a part of the main; if a clod be washed away by the sea, Europe is the less, as well as if a promontory were, as well as if a manor of thy friends or of thine own were; any man's death diminishes me, because I am involved in mankind; and therefore never send to know for whom the bell tolls; it tolls for thee."

CLASS HISTORY

Twas our first day as freshmen, and all through the school
Not a one of us was succeeding at trying to be cool;
In orientation we all listened with care,
In hopes that we all soon
would be out of there; Before much time passed we were over our dreads, While car washes and K.B.M.
danced in our heads.
And so we completed the most difficult lap,
As we all settled down for a long summer's nap.
When we returned there arose
such a clatter, Howie sprang to the scene to see what was the matter;
Away to the stage he flew like a flash.

With "Sorry, Wrong Number",
our One Act smash,
The class began work on the Yule decorations,
The Grinch as a winner proved a sensation.
When what to the seniors' eyes should appear,
But a courtyard dance at the end of the year.
With officers so lively and quick,
As Tim, Wes, Paula, Linda, and Dick.
More rapid than eagles our junior year came,
As upperclassmen C.H.S. was a whole new game.
And then in a twinkling we heard from the stage,
That the "Ugly Duckling" was all the rage.

As we bought our prom tickets and were turning around,
Down the Stairway To Heaven
we came with a bound.
The boys dressed all in tux,
and the girls all in gown,
And Dee and Bob each wore a gold crown.
A bundle of fame the boys
track won,
And the girls track team
finally begun.
Our eyes how they twinkled!
Our faces how merry,
As we left for the summer with no books to carry.
We returned as seniors, the freshmen like elves,
And we laughed when we saw them,

In spite of ourselves.
With Reg, Mare, Lis, Laur, and
Kath as our head, Soon gave us to know we had nothing to dread.
We spoke many words and went straight to the task,
And sold more magazines than had ever been asked.
Then standing up on the first of December,
For a "Wizard of Oz" we'll always remember.
Our prom was held near the first of the year,
For the senior play, many a cheer,
After class night and graduation,
we called from the door,
"Good luck to all from the class of '74."

EDITOR'S MESSAGE

"Harvest" 74 is completed; a special yearbook for a special class. A lot of hard work and effort from a lot of people went into the making of this yearbook, so, many thanks are in order.

For the over 200 pictures that are used in "Harvest" we can thank Charles Ararat and Craig Eisner, two fine student photographers, and a special thanks to another great photographer, Chic Hardy of Apeda Studios.

Throughout the year many people contributed to "Harvest," and their ideas and work were greatly appreciated. We thank Mr. Martinook for his financial assistance, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Brown our publishers, Mr. Bontatibus and his class for typing 391 biographies, and especially Linda Upton for checking and proof-reading all 391. But there were four people who were always there and working: Sue Adams, Ron Bray, Kris Manke, and Tim Slocum. These people gave their all, and their efforts are what made "Harvest" great.

Finally, a very special thanks to Mrs. Andrews. She really cared about our class and our yearbook, and the hours of work and explanation she gave to us prove that. We greatly appreciate all her help.

"Harvest" depicts the times and accomplishments of the class of '74. I hope that the memories preserved in this book will serve as a foundation to everyone in their future endeavors.
